DPO Certification Application Checklist

Step-by-step guide to applying for the official POTRAZ / HIT Data
Protection Officer certification — fees, forms, contacts and deadlines.

Document Application Checklist

Standard Cyber & Data Protection Act [Chapter 12:07] · SI 155 of 2024

Prepared with VAKA OS

The official DPO certification in Zimbabwe is run by Harare Institute of Technology (HIT) as POTRAZ's appointed National Data Protection Training Institution. There is no private/alternative route to the recognised certificate — by law (SI 155, s.11 & s.13) only a POTRAZ-accredited institution may certify DPOs. Verify current dates and fees with HIT before paying, as intakes and figures can change.

Step 1 — Confirm you're eligible

You should have a background (skill, qualification or experience) in at least one of: - Data science / data analytics - Information security systems / information systems audit - Law / audit - Any other relevant qualification

Plus a willingness to learn national data protection law and your organisation's processing operations. (SI 155, s.13.)

I meet at least one qualification route above.

Step 2 — Get the application form

Download the DPO Certification Course Application Form from the HIT website (Short Courses / Events section: hit.ac.zw).

Alternatively request it by emailing dpotraining@hit.ac.zw.

Step 3 — Pay the application fee

Zimbabwean citizens: USD 30

International applicants: USD 50

Non-refundable.

Pay physically at HIT campus or into the POTRAZ account and attach proof:

Account name: POTRAZ
Bank: BancABC
Branch: Mt. Pleasant
Account no.: 10622106433010

Application fee paid; proof of payment saved.

Step 4 — Submit the application

Submit the completed form + proof of payment, physically at HIT campus or by email to dpotraining@hit.ac.zw.

Keep a copy of everything you send.

Step 5 — On approval, pay tuition

Zimbabwean citizens: USD 1,250

International applicants: USD 1,450

Tuition paid once the application is approved; proof saved.

Confirm intake dates and mode (in-person at HIT, Belvedere, Harare / online) with the course office.

Step 6 — Attend and complete the course

Attend all sessions.

Cover the syllabus (see Study Guide): the Act, SI 155, principles, rights, licensing, DPO role, security, breaches, DPIAs.

Step 7 — Sit the examination

Sit the 4-hour written exam at the end of the course.

Pass to be issued the Data Protection Certificate.

Step 8 — After certification

If you're being appointed as a DPO for an organisation, the controller notifies POTRAZ using Form DP2 (within 90 days of appointment).

Diarise annual recertification — the certificate must be renewed each year, with CPD training provided by your employer (SI 155, s.10(1)).

Cost summary (per person)

Item	Zimbabwean	International
Application fee	USD 30	USD 50
Tuition	USD 1,250	USD 1,450
Total	USD 1,280	USD 1,500

Annual recertification fees are additional and set by the Authority.

On training privately — the direct answer

No. POTRAZ will not train you one-on-one, and no private trainer can issue the recognised DPO certificate. Under SI 155 anyone providing certification training must be accredited by POTRAZ (accreditation fee USD 5,000 p.a.), and providing certification training without accreditation is an offence (level 11 / up to 7 years). Consultancies may offer preparatory workshops, but the statutory certification and exam must go through HIT/POTRAZ. Your private effort is best spent on self-study (this pack) before and during the official course.
